Dex low before bed but pt did not get Xtra snack. The 0200 dex high likely 20 to hepatic glucose output - compensation for hypoglycemia. Resident paged me & I decided to hold off on insulin since no ketones were present. This AM dex 500. Pt states he is feeling well, but wants to see mom.

Mom did not come in yesterday. Boyfriend called & said she was "wasted". Apparently she came in a cab & left when she saw the security guards. Has not finished education. Pt can be discharged, medically, anytime. We are simply waiting for court decision as to dispensation. I will speak w/ DCSF worker to decide if we should proceed w/ c/c tomorrow back to foster care.

P-E, w/m. Pt cooperative & ready to play. No positive finding on P.E.

AIP

Cont current insulin plan. I have written an order for extra bedtime snack if dex < 120. Pt usually does well on this regimen if dex before bed good. Social - as above

Andrea Carroll unable to come up for more teaching today. I have spoken w/ her by phone & she feels "very comfortable" with the diabetes care & is very willing to take him home. She may not be able to pick him up herself, but the DCSE worker may be taking him to her home (Andrea's).

I am comfortable with Andrea taking this child, even w/o further education. We can see him back in clinic early next week and maintain phone contact throughout the weekend. We will await the DCSE worker to call & let us know if she can take Jordan to her.

Await Ortho consult today.

Will discharge today if possible, DCSE worker will likely be the one to take home. He will be in school w/ a tutor until the final foster situation is determined.
